Notice of Hearing on Motion to Transfer of Venue

You are hereby notified that a hearing on the Defendant’s Motion to Transfer Venue because of improper venue in this Justice Court is scheduled on April 9, 2025 Motion Docket 8:30 AM. You may appear either in-person in the courtroom or remotely via Zoom using the following instructions.

Appearance Instructions via Zoom:

The Plaintiff may file a response to the Defendant’s Motion to Transfer Venue. The parties may present evidence at the hearing.

If the motion is granted, the judge will sign an order designating the court to which the case will be transferred. If the motion is denied, the case will be heard in this Court.

If the case is transferred to another county, the Plaintiff will be notified to pay the filing fee in the court to which the case is transferred. The Plaintiff has 14 days after receiving the notice to pay the filing fee. There is no refund of any fees already paid. Failure to pay the filing fees will result in dismissal of the case without prejudice.

There is no motion for rehearing, and there is no interlocutory appeal of the ruling on venue.

Instructions: Venue is the place where the lawsuit should be filed. Generally, in Justice Court, proper venue is the county and precinct in which one or more defendants reside, the county and precinct where the incident that gave rise to the claim occurred, the county and precinct where the contract, if any, that gave rise to the claim was to be performed, or in a suit to recover personal property, the county and precinct where the property is located. The justices of the peace in each county are allowed to adopt local rules regarding the transfer of a pending case from one precinct to a different precinct. Venue may be proper, but a party may believe that a fair trial in a specific precinct or before a specific judge is not possible. A motion to transfer venue must be filed before trial, but no later than 21 days after the defendant's answer is filed. The motion must contain a sworn statement that the venue chosen by the plaintiff is improper and state the specific county and precinct of proper venue. Venue provisions may be found in Chapter 15, Subchapter E of the Texas Civil Practice and Remedies Code which is available online and for examination during the Court's business hours. Rule 502.4

Subject: RE: Needing to file motion for a continuance due to an urgent family matter

Dear District Clerk,

My name is Shery James, i am the defendant in case number 253100018649. I am writing to request a continuance/rescheduling of my case due to an urgent family matter.

I am asking you to reschedule the case because we are suspecting a mismanagement of the completion of the renovation of my fathers house in Jamaica, and i must go immediately to rectify the issue, so that there will not be a delay in completion before hurricane season and my father will not be unhoused after his cancer treatment.

This situation has caught me off guard, and i would not have asked for a continuance, but for this alarming issue. Even though the meeting is by zoom, the island often has power outages and other electrical inconveniences that i do not want to chance affecting my hearing.

I would like to request a new haring date of may 7 th or 12th if possible.

Thank you for your consideration. I understand , that this could possibly cause an inconvenience. If you have any questions, you can reach out, or send a response at this email.

Sincerely,
Sheryl

Instructions: The Servicemembers Civil Relief Act applies to a civil proceeding in the Justice Courts. Before entering a default judgment against an individual defendant, the plaintiff must file with the court an affidavit stating whether or not the defendant is in the military service, showing necessary facts to support the affidavit, or stating that the plaintiff is unable to determine whether or not the defendant is in military service, if that is the case. The requirement for an affidavit may be satisfied by a written, signed document declared to be true under penalty of perjury. If it appears that the defendant is in military service, the court may not enter a judgment until after the court appoints an attorney to represent the defendant. If the court is unable to determine if the defendant is in military service, the court may require plaintiff to file a bond in an amount approved by the court.

A person who makes or uses an affidavit under this Act knowing it to be false, may be fined or imprisoned or both. 50 U.S.C. App. 501 et seq. To obtain certificates of service or non-service under the Servicemembers' Civil Relief Act, you may access the public website: <https://scra.dmdc.osd.mil/scra/#/home>. Notice of Hearing on Motion to Transfer of Venue

You are hereby notified that a hearing on the Defendant’s Motion to Transfer Venue because of improper venue in this Justice Court is scheduled on May 21, 2025 Motion Docket 8:30 AM. You may appear either in-person in the courtroom or remotely via Zoom using the following instructions.

Appearance Instructions via Zoom:

The Plaintiff may file a response to the Defendant’s Motion to Transfer Venue. The parties may present evidence at the hearing.

If the motion is granted, the judge will sign an order designating the court to which the case will be transferred. If the motion is denied, the case will be heard in this Court.

If the case is transferred to another county, the Plaintiff will be notified to pay the filing fee in the court to which the case is transferred. The Plaintiff has 14 days after receiving the notice to pay the filing fee. There is no refund of any fees already paid. Failure to pay the filing fees will result in dismissal of the case without prejudice.

There is no motion for rehearing, and there is no interlocutory appeal of the ruling on venue.

Date: 4/3/2025

This document shows the series of texts between myself and the Plaintiff Pam Richardson almost 2 weeks after the initial hair appointment. The first graphic at the top of the page shows when she initially made her online appointment.

At the time, I had not seen Ms. Richardson in months, so I asked how she had been. That's when she told me that she had been in an accident (i assumed auto) and she had been off work for months. She did not appear to be limping but I assumed that if there was an injury, she probably was medicated at the time.

She proceeded to sit in my chair so I could start on her hair. We begin to discuss her style and desired outcome, and she ran a few ideas by me.

1)She told me she wanted thicker locks and asked me if it was possible to cut her hair and add much thicker loc extensions to match the look she desired. Since her hair is fine and wavy, I discouraged her from doing this as I didn't think it was a healthy option for her hair...neither was it healthy as I told her extensions would be needed every time to bridge her hair.

2) Once I talked her out of the extensions, she told me she wanted a cut. She pointed to the desired length by reaching under her arm. And touching the spot to show me how short she wanted it. After asking her if she was sure about the length, she said yes! I proceeded to cut her locs and place them all in a bag, which I handed to her.

I proceeded to style her hair, similar to the thicker loc look by doubling her locs lengthwise and twisting them. I explained what I did to get her that thicker look. She appeared to be very pleased when she walked out and I was happy to do what I felt was a job well done.

Previous to that appointment, i had not seen her in close to a year, and when she came in her locs looked like they were hanging by a thread and about to break off. I did a lot of extra work which she wasn't even charged for since up to that point we had good business interactions and was my way of giving back. All her locs would have fallen out had i not intervened. I have been doing hair for almost 30 yrs and my clients can tell you I do my utmost to be fair and resolve things amicably.

In the past, if a client and I were not seeing eye to eye, I would have happily refunded the service fee(at my loss)because i know it creates goodwill.This was going to be my first compromise if the Plaintiff had called me and we could reach an amicable agreement. Instead, she lied to the credit card company trying to defraud me out of the charges for my service to which I provided evidence after which they ruled in my favor reinstating the charges.

At this point, I really do feel this was an attempt at a money grab, because she was not interested in hearing any of my solutions. I am licensed in the state of Texas, and have been featured twice in the Houston Chronicle, not only that, i am a master stylist that specializes in, and is an expert in loc repairs (many stylists send their clients to me for this type of service). .Those locs could have been easily reattached.

Here is a document of the text exchange that occurred. In addition, once she failed at scamming me out of the service fee, she threatened to sue me. Maybe she saw an opportunity to make up for her lack of income due to being off work from her accident. I can not say for sure. Unfortunately, this decision to file a suit has caused a negative impact to, and permanently altered our professional relationship.

Just know all those lies you told remember them cause you will be under oath in court cause it's no a treat it's a promise cause you know you wrong I never asked your Mother fucking ass to cut my hair with your lying ass,I fucking still can't believe you cut mf hair,and if you so telling the truth,I sent you a certified letter by mail ass the court said I had to do so why you didn't take cause you know your ass lying and you don't want to go to court but I promise we will go to court on my life cause you not getting away that was fucked up what you did,then told whole lie,yeah this my hair the last time my regular beautician did it in August just Kno I will present it and she willing to come to court with me.still can't understand why still trying to wrap my head why yo ass would do that to me

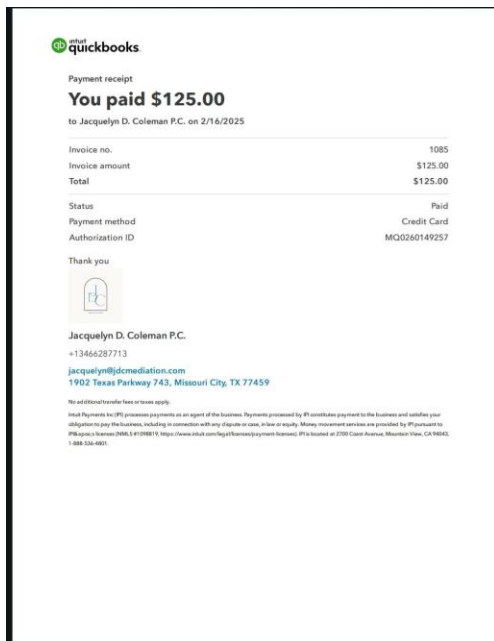

In the above screenshots, I asked the Plaintiff, Pam, to call me because her texts were getting more and more aggressive. I asked her by text to give me a time to call her to see if we could come to a reasonable agreement. Not once but twice she ignored my plea and continued to curse me out. I also attempted , if memory serves correct, to call her twice by phone. She ignored my calls and all attempts to reasonably resolve this amicably.

In the event that claims presented by the plaintiff is not substantiated by evidence. I would like to issue my own counterclaim in the amount of $20,000

The breakdown is as follows

- $2,200 due to lost work income in pursuit of legal Consults regarding this lawsuit
- $125 Zoom Legal Strategy session
- $10,000 Phycological stress, lack of sleep And mental suffering from lawsuit
- $7,635 In ongoing project delay cost by having To delay travel and container shipping Which will result in additional wharfage Fees, terminal fees due to Pushing all current plans into high Season

Attached is the legal consilt receipt. More will be added as they become available.

I hereby certify that on the 18th day of February 2025, a true and correct copy of the foregoing instrument was forwarded by certified mail or email to the plaintiff Pamela Richardson
